This architectural drawing shows the elevation of a building facade with a series of windows. Height markers are indicated by blue arrows and text on the left and right sides. The markers on the left, from top to bottom, are: +7.100, +6.850, +3.150, +3.260, ±0.000, +0.000, -0.400, and -1.353. The markers on the right, from top to bottom, are: +3.440, +3.300, +0.300, and -0.050. The drawing includes a dashed line representing the ground level and a solid line representing the building's base.

Architectural floor plan of a building with dimensions and annotations. The plan shows a rectangular layout with a total width of 27,500 and a total depth of 24,675. The plan is divided into three main sections by horizontal walls. The leftmost section has a width of 3,000. The middle section has a width of 27,500. The rightmost section has a width of 2,950. The plan includes various annotations such as elevations (+6,850, +7,100, +3,260, +3,400, +3,300, +3,150, +3,300, +3,150), slopes (3%, 2%), and room labels (8x větrací komínek, 10 x větrací komínek, VZT 250). The plan also shows a staircase and a hatched area on the left side.

A hand-drawn architectural section drawing of a building. The drawing shows a cross-section with a sloped roof on the left and a flat roof on the right. The interior is divided into several rooms. A large room on the left has a sloped roof and a small window. A central room has a flat roof and a window. A smaller room on the right has a flat roof and a window. The drawing includes various elevation markers in meters, such as +6.850, +7.100, +3.300, +3.440, +3.260, +3.150, +0.300, -0.050, -0.150, and -0.100. The drawing is labeled 'Section' and 'Elevation'.
